FAIRFIELD FARMERS ENDORSE.

Action of Southern Cotton Association in Fixing 12 Cents as Minimum Price for Cotton. Steps Taken for Building Warehouses.

The meeting of the farmers called for Monday was well attended. Court was adjourned at 12 o'clock, so that the farmers could hold their meeting in the court house. At first it looked like the meeting was going to be one of the farces held of late, but soon the farmers began coming in and before the hour for adjournment came, there was a good attendance of farmers in the court house and they had that business air about them that signified that they meant more than mere talk.

Immediately after the meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. S. C. Cathcart, the following resolution was introduced:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Fairfield Cotton Association that the action of the Southern Cotton Association in fixing the minimum price for cotton at 12 cents be endorsed and that the farmers of the county should hold their cotton for that price.

A number present made some very appropriate remarks on the same and after a full discussion the resolution was passed without a dissenting vote.

After this matter was disposed of, the practical problem of taking the necessary steps for the building of a system of warehouses in the county was taken up and was discussed in a most businesslike way. Mr. McDonald introduced a resolution that a committee of five be appointed for the purpose of getting out a charter for the Fairfield County Warehouse Company with a capital of $25,000, in shares of $10.00 each. The following committee was appointed: J. E. McDonald, D. L. Stevenson, J. P. Caldwell, T. W. Ruff, S. C. Cathcart. With such a committee as this it is very evident that something will be done at once. The sentiment of the whole house was most decidedly in favor of the movement. While it is recognized that the present warehouse facilities in the county are all right as far as they go, there is by no means enough, and this committee will go to work in earnest for supplying this warehouse need.

The following committee was appointed for the purpose of arousing an interest among the farmers of their respective sections in behalf of furthering the interests of the Cotton Association and to ascertain what assistance will be rendered in the organization of the proposed warehouse company. J. B. Curlee, W. J. Turner, E. B. Mason, T. L. Johnston, J. W. Keistler, Jason Hall, W. C. Pear, W. R. Rabb, T. W. Traylor, W. J. Burley, S. T. Clowney, W. H. Macfie.

A letter was read from President Smith of the South Carolina Association, calling on the farmers to assist in the carrying on of the work of the Southern Association by contributing a tax of three cents on each bale of cotton that would be raised by them. The farmers present took this call very seriously and in just a pair of minutes had coughed up the dough to the extent of $50.00, in a manner that was most creditable to their determination to assist in the work of uplifting the condition of the Southern farmer through organization.

The work of perfecting the local organizations is recognized as one of the greatest needs of the Association. The farmers of the various sections of the county were called to meet at their respective places next Monday and to get in line with this great movement. They will at that meeting organize themselves in accordance with the rules of the Southern Association and will elect delegates to a meeting to be held at the court house the first Monday in October. At this meeting the warehouse committee will make its report. It will be the most important meeting of the farmers that has been held during the year. Every farmer in the county should arrange to be present so as to lend this great movement his very best assistance.

The meeting did not adjourn till 2 o'clock. The disposition on the part of all to see everything done in a thorough business like way indicated how much in earnest the farmers were. It was a business meeting by representative farmers and had the true ring about it. With organization there is a better day ahead of the Southern farmer.

Letter to Judge Broom, Winnsboro, S. C.

Dear Sir: A painter complained that our cans are too full; unhandy; spill.

It's a way we have; 'tis handier not to be full; but we have a weakness for full-measure. Our gallon contains eight pints; the usual "gallon" is seven.

We'll think it over again; but we like a full can. How much short would you like a barrel? Seven gallons would be the proportion.

Short-measure suggests that the shortage is probably not in the cheapest ingredient.

Guess we'll stick to four quarts to a gallon, and fifty gallons a barrel.

The name to go by is Devoe lead and zinc.

Yours truly

A WINNSBORO BOY'S BRAVE DEED.

William Gladden Rescues a Fellow Workman who Had Come in Contact With a Live Wire.

Charlotte Evening News, Sept. 9.

Suspended from a pole 40 feet high with only a leather belt supporting him, William Gladden, a lineman, this afternoon heroically rescued his companion, William Burnett, who, unconscious from a serious shock, was in imminent peril.

The spectacular rescue was witnessed by several hundred people, who stood spell-bound while the scene was enacted and were so overcome they forgot to cheer the rescuer.

Burnett and Gladden were making some connections for the Catawba Power Company on the same pole, at the intersection of College and Trade street. In some manner Burnett's left shoulder came in contact with a live wire and 2,300 volts shot into his body. Instantly he lost consciousness and released his grasp on the pole.

The leather belt around his waist had been run over a cross arm on the pole and this held him, limp and helpless, 40 feet in the air and imminent danger of being dashed to the pavement below. Gladden acted quickly. His own belt was adjusted to another cross arm in the same manner as Burnett's, and, releasing his hold he swung around, guiding himself with his feet, until he could grasp the unconscious form of his companion. Then he held on firmly to the injured man while his companions secured ropes and in a short while Burnett had been lowered to the ground.

Burnett was removed to Hand's drug store and two physicians summoned. His shoulder and both hands are badly burned and he is suffering from the great shock to his nervous system. The physicians think his condition serious.

Death of Mrs. T. G. Patrick.

Mrs. Thoms G. Patrick died at the home of her brother, J. K. Henry, Esq., in Chester, Friday evening last after nearly two years of intense suffering. She was about 43 years of age. She went to Chester several months ago for treatment, but she never was able to return to her home.

She leaves a husband and seven children and two brothers, J. K. Henry, Esq., of Chester and Rev. M. H. Henry of Marion, Ala., and one sister, Mrs. Brown White of Chester, and a host of relatives and friends in this county.

Her remains were brought down from Chester Saturday morning to White Oak and laid to rest at 3 o'clock that afternoon in the cemetery at this place.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. A. White, of Blackstock and Rev. J. S. Moffat of Chester.

There was a large number of relatives and friends from Chester at the funeral. The sorrowing ones have the heartfelt sympathy of all in this entire community.

A kind, loving, Christian wife and mother has gone to her heavenly home.

A New Jersey Editor's Testimonial.

Reads Both Ways.

Col. James T. Bacon, of Edgefield, while on his recent trip to Europe, discovered a sentence which, it is claimed, was written by Napoleon while a prisoner on the Island of Elba. It is: "Able was I ere I saw Elba." The peculiarity of the sentence lies in the fact it reads the same either forward or backward. Read it backward and see for yourself.—Anderson Mail.

A Word from Helen Keller.

That beloved girl, Helen Keller, deaf and blind, who yet makes her niche of the world so good that its savor reaches from Maine to Texas, to South Africa, Sweden, India, Germany, England and Spain, says "The answer to my longing is always clear and steady—God in infinite goodness has seen fit to make the flowers of the bitter almond tree sweet."—Fairfax Enterprise.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble, caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At McMaster Co.'s, Obeur Drug Co.'s and John H. McMaster & Co.'s drug stores; 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

It would be really interesting to know just where the dispensary corruption started and who got the initial graft. Senator Tillman claimed that he gave back the rebates that were due to his administration to buy credit for the State. It would be interesting now to know who first reversed this order by selling the credit of the state for rebates—Yorkville Enquirer.

If a Cow gave Butter mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food—medicine in the world.

For more than fifty years its reputation has grown better every year. This reputation is due to the good quality that has always been a part of the Studebaker Wagons. Each part is made from the lumber that is best fitted for that part. New England black birch makes the best hubs—the Studebaker hubs are made of it. Butt cut, second growth black hickory is the best for axles—Studebaker axles are made of it. Selected white oak is best for spokes and running gears—that is what is used in the Studebaker Wagon.
